Hopeful adoptive parents from Florida waiting to adopt a baby boy.

HELLO BIRTHMOTHER

We'd like to thank you for your time in reading our profile of our family. It takes incredible courage and faith to make this gift to your child and to our family. Our lives will forever be changed and we will forever be grateful. We are looking forward to providing this baby with unconditional love, incredible opportunities and loads of fun! As you read through our brochure, you will soon see how your child will be truly blessed with the amazing life style we are about to give him.

ABOUT US & OUR FAMILY

Our family is loving, spontaneous, courteous, humorous and glorious! We appreciate every day that we are on this planet and live every day to learn something new and make someone smile along the way! We are blessed with a daughter (Angelina) and we look forward to expanding our family with a brother for her! Ben and I really looked forward to a big family after we were married. Unfortunately, I was unable to conceive. Through many rounds of fertility we finally had our daughter very prematurely. She was 14 oz. at birth and 15 weeks early. It is a miracle that she is alive. Tragically, I am not able to have anymore children. This was a crushing blow to our dreams of a big happy family! But we like to turn frowns upside down! We decided to try and complete our family through adopting a son! We are so excited about this adventure! We hope you find our family to be your dream family because we know another child would be a dream come true for ours!

Ben comes from a very fun-loving boisterous Italian family! They are an extremely close and tight-knit group! There is never less than 30 people at a typical family gathering (usually more)! They are honest, positive and faithful people. We all live near each other and they are an amazing source of support for our family! Ben is an amazing husband and father. I thank God everyday for him! He is honest, faithful, smart, funny and an all around wonderful person. He is the most positive person I know. He can find the silver lining in any situation! He loves spending time with our daughter, teaching her so many things and playing with her every chance he gets. He recently taught her how to ride a dirt bike, play piano & drums and we both taught her how to snow ski. He loves playing on the playground and reads to her on a daily basis. I have no doubt that he will love to have a son to work in the garage with and coach little league baseball. He is a very hands on dad! Ben loves to play music and is in a band that supports March of Dimes. He loves to spend time outdoors and does so often on our boat or jet ski! His passion for life is never ending. Ben's mom & dad (Nana & Papa) spend so much time with our family and look forward to spoiling another grandchild soon! Our daughter loves visiting them as it seems they have an unlimited supply of Chocolate ice cream :)

Katie Is one amazing girl in many aspects.. Katie is the type of person everyone likes to be around. She is very compassionate, positive, athletic, energetic and a wonderful stay at home mom to our daughter Angelina. Katie is an awesome golfer and loves to fish and play the clarinet. She is trying to teach Angelina all of these things.....as well as trying to teach me!.....if I'd only listen!:) She is my Best friend and I thank God daily for this blessing. In the most difficult times, Katie always puts her family out in front and supports us whole heartily. She is the kind of person you can't help but smile when you are near her. .

As Angelina is attending Kindergarten next year, she will have plenty of time and attention to spend with a new baby! She calls this her dream job and looks forward to another opportunity to do what she loves! Katie's family lives about 3 hours away and comes to visit often and we make several trips to see them as well. We are committed to keeping our family close and to developing lasting relationships amongst the cousins! Her mom & dad (Grandma and Gramps) are truly excited about our dreams being fulfilled with the addition of a new member to our family!

Angelina is a very smart and funny girl. She loves to play outside and read! She memorizes so many books we read to her. She is this sweet little petite girl as well as a tom-boy and can't wait to be big enough to climb a tree! When asked whether or not she would like a brother she says, "yes" immediately! She loves to play with cars and trains and dig in the dirt! She can't wait to teach him everything she knows!

Our home is in a safe and quiet subdivision and the elementary school is at the end of our street! It is full of children and our cousins & Ben's parents live here as well. Our house has a pond in back which we have made a fishing hole! Our nephews and nieces love to come over and fish. We also have a field on the side of our house where the neighborhood kids come to play football, volleyball, ride bikes or any other sport they can think of! We have a pool, a playground in our back yard and a dedicated toy room for the kids! Many of our friends call our house Toys-R-Us! It's every kids dream in our toy room!

Education is extremely important to our family. Along with our moms and dads, Ben & I save money daily for our child's college funds in hopes that they want to extend their education! We tell our child that she can be anything that she wants to be. We want her to be happy and make a difference! She understands "RESPECT" and her behavior and manners are brought up to us very so often.

Our faith: We are Christians and go to church as often as we can. We read the bible to our child, say prayers at the dinner table and before bed. We feel it is important to instill faith in God in our child. We believe in the power of prayer. Miracles happen everyday. Our child is one of them. Yours is too and we look forward to cherishing every moment.

Final thoughts:

It is very difficult to write our feelings on paper and trying to keep it as short as possible. We hope that you have enough information about us to consider asking us any other questions regarding the amazing future of your baby. Hopefully we explained to you how very much we want another child in our lives and if given the chance, we will love your baby with all our hearts. We have so much support from a large family and nearby friends with this addition. We have the financial means to raise your child and a beautiful home for a growing family. We work hard for what we have and we are so anxious to devote our energy to raising your baby. Thank you for considering us.
